

PARTNERSHIP ANNOUNCEMENT: COLOSSUS - LEDGER

Colossus Digital becomes the first regulated provider in Italy for custody with Ledger Enterprise.

Colossus Digital is pleased to announce a new partnership, positioning the company as the first regulated custody provider in Italy for custody with Ledger Enterprise.

Colossus Digital, a company that offers staking services in the blockchain industry, regulated by the Italian OAM and is committed to security, transparency and customer satisfaction. Colossus is a reliable partner to navigate the Proof of Stake landscape, the regulated custody and digital payments integration systems.

Ledger is the leader of blockchain landscape, specializing in the production of cryptocurrency hardware wallets and blockchain security solutions. Ledger establishes itself as one of the digital custody landscape, with a high level of security to safely store the private keys used to manage several cryptocurrencies.

Becoming a custody provider with Ledger means officially partnering with a company that specializes in cryptocurrency hardware wallets to offer highly secure and innovative custody services.

“Ledger Enterprise is our best-in-class, enterprise-grade solution for self-custody. History has shown us that every cycle brings new reasons and new examples which highlight the need for self-custody, not just at a consumer level, but on an institutional level. We're proud to work with Colossus Digital in Italy and the UK, a custodian which is showing the market it correctly prioritizes security when working with technology providers,” said Pascal Gauthier, Chairman & CEO of Ledger.

“This partnership with Ledger Enterprise is a testament to our ongoing commitment to revolutionising the digital asset custody landscape. As the first OAM regulated provider in Italy to offer such advanced custody and staking solutions, as a technology provider that underpins the blockchain structure through validation, we at Colossus Digital are not only pioneering the blockchain industry, but we are also setting a new standard of trust and security. Our partnership with Ledger, a leader in blockchain security, allows us to offer our clients an unprecedented service. This alliance is a beacon of innovation, demonstrating our dedication to safeguarding digital assets with cutting-edge technology and robust regulatory compliance, providing our clients with the confidence to navigate the complex world of cryptocurrency,” stated Gianni Pelosi, CEO of Colossus Digital.

This initiative reflects Colossus Digital's ongoing commitment to bringing innovation and technology within the Italian landscape and gives the company the distinction of being the first Italian Ledger provider.
